PROCEEDINGS 1918

FIRST DAY

Tuesday, December 10, 1918

The Grand Camp was called to order by the Grand Commander. The following Grand Officers were present: Boyd Smith, Grand Commander; T. B. Jackson, First Lieutenant Grand Commander; W. B. Freeman, Acting Adjutant-General.

GENERAL ORDER No. 3.

HEADQUARTERS GRAND CAMP CONFEDERATE VETERANS

DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA.

October 14, 1918.

On account of the death of Colonel David A. Brown, Jr., the Grand Commander directs me to appoint Major Wm. McK. Evans as Quartermaster-General of the Grand Camp Confederate Veterans of Virginia.

JOS. V. BIDGOOD,
Adjutant General.

The Grand Commander's Report

To the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia:

We have met in our Annual Convention to consider questions affecting our organization, and emphasizing its aims and purposes.

I have visited as many camps as possible during the year, and while some of these have been regular in their meetings and active in their various duties, I am sorry to report that a good number of the camps have apparently lost interest, due to causes that are apparent, and in some instances excusable. Their numbers decreased by death, and removals, from the smaller counties particularly, have left so few that a quorum of members cannot be gathered. Some have disbanded and others will be forced to do so.

In other places, particularly in the cities, the public thought has been so centered on the World War in which our country has been engaged that the minds of our comrades have been diverted from the usual channels and focused on the great struggle for preserving our civilization. Notwithstanding these discouraging conditions, I am glad to report that many of the camps are active, and are carefully looking after the sick and relieving distress wherever found in their midst. I found these invariably loyal and patriotic, many having sons and grandsons in the armies of the United States.

Recommendations.—In the list of Committees I observe that for some reason the Historic Committee has not reported for two years or more. I suggest that this Committee be re-established and urged to make report to our next meeting on such subjects as may appear to them of interest to the Camp.

I have to perform a distressing duty in announcing to you the death of several of our members during the past year. Gen. T. T. Munford, of Lynchburg, departed this life in Alabama, full of years and honors. His remains rest in the soil of Virginia, in the city of Lynchburg, where he was honored and loved by a host of friends. As a soldier and citizen, no man in Virginia occupied a higher place in the confidence and esteem of all Virginia than did General Munford.

In the death of S. S. Brooke, Brigadier-General, commanding the 2d Virginia Brigade of the U. C. V., and a Past Grand Commander of this Camp, we have lost a valuable member of our organization. General Brooke commanded a company of infantry during the War and was a gallant soldier and useful citizen.

In the death of Col. Thomas Smith, of Fauquier County, who was Past Commander of our Camp, Virginia lost a courageous soldier and loyal patriotic citizen.

I am satisfied that every member of our organization was shocked and grieved when the papers of the State reported the sudden death of our Quartermaster, D. A. Brown, which occurred in his home in the city of Richmond, on the 7th of last October. He will be missed perhaps more than any officer who could have been taken from our midst. His services in looking after the interests of the Grand Camp, and the comfort of its members were highly appreciated by every member. I am sure his memory will be held dear by each one of you through all your days.

In the place of our worthy and lamented Quartermaster I have, after mature consideration and advice, appointed in his stead Maj. W. McK. Evans, of Richmond, whose admirable report to this session of our annual meeting will be read by our Acting Adjutant-General, W. B. Freeman, in the absence of Col. Joseph Bidgood, who is unavoidably detained at his home on account of sickness.

I congratulate you, comrades, that you have been spared to attend another meeting of this Grand Camp, that you have passed safely through another year—the most momentous in the history of our own and other lands.

With patriotic loyalty filling your hearts and love of justice and liberty stirring your souls, may you survive to see peace and contentment prevail over the earth, and righteousness cover the land as the waters do the great deep.

Comrades, I thank you.

BOYD SMITH,
Commander.

Quartermaster-General's Report

To the Grand Camp Confederate Veterans :

Comrades: I regret that business engagements that I cannot set aside prevent me presenting in person the report of the Quartermaster-General for the year 1918.

Owing to the death of our beloved comrade, D. A. Brown, Jr., who has held this office for so many years, the duties have fallen on me. I have, therefore, made an exact copy of the entries appearing on his books up to October 5th of this year, adding thereto all receipts and disbursements made by myself. I think you will find the report clear and explicit.

You will observe that many of the camps are not paying the per capita of fifteen cents. I feel it my duty to call this to your attention or you will not have enough income to run the grand Camp.

Regarding the matter of investment in Liberty Loan Bonds, from the Petersburg meeting, permit me to say: What the intention of the Grand Camp was regarding these bonds is by no means clear, either as a matter of record, or the views of the members who were present at the time this motion to purchase the bonds was made. The books of the late Quartermaster-General show, as per my report, that $500.00 was paid him by several parties to be so invested. He has bought only $250.00 of bonds; the remaining $250.00 I have in the bank. I should, therefore, like to be instructed by the Grand Camp just what the meaning and intent of this motion was. Are these bonds to be the property of the Grand Camp, or were they bought through the Grand Camp for the subscribing parties? If the bonds are the property of the Grand Camp, I will know what to do with them; if not, I desire to be instructed as to what disposition to make of them.

You will observe that the balance of $179.64 in the hands of the late Quartermaster-General was not invested in bonds, as was the intention, and from the fact that the revenue of the Grand Camp has not met its expenses of 1918, I should suggest that they be not so invested.

Report of the Inspector-General

To the Grand Camp Confederate Veterans of Virginia :

Your Inspector-General begs leave to submit his annual report relative to the status of the camps of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans, Department of Virginia.

More than usual difficulty has been encountered this year in procuring data on which to make up the annual report to this body. The Assistant Inspectors-General have found it extremely difficult, and in some cases impossible to get reports from the Adjutants of the various camps whose duty it is to forward them from their respective camps. Whether the Assistant Inspectors have been sufficiently diligent and persistent in their efforts to procure these reports it is impossible to determine. Some of the camps seem to meet only occasionally, and some which have no stated time for meeting, meet at the call of Commander or Adjutant. The intense interest in the great European War has doubtless had no inconsiderable part in this seeming indifference to making out and forwarding the data on which your Inspector-General must make his consolidated report. The great European War which has just been brought to a happy close—a war in which the descendants of Confederate and Federal soldiers have been fighting side by side to save the world from domination of Germany and her confederates—has brought all Americans into a closer friendship with each other than perhaps has ever existed before.

Before concluding this report, a few words to the ten Assistant Inspectors we deem necessary. Some of the reports to your Inspector-General are models of neatness and accuracy. Would that this might be said of all of them. A few suggestions given in kindness, we trust will be taken in the right spirit:

Suggestion No. 1.—Write with pen and ink, and not with lead pencil.

Suggestion No. 2.—Do not write across the face of the report.

Suggestion No. 3.—Use all diligence in getting reports from the Adjutants, and send your consolidated report promptly to the Inspector-General.

Suggestion No. 4.—Send reports of Adjutants to the Adjutant-General.

Suggestion No. 5.—Be sure to put sufficient postage on your envelope.

Suggestion No. 6.—And last, go carefully over your additions and get someone else to verify your figures. Quite a number of mistakes in some of the reports had to be corrected.

Please notice that I have called no names; therefore if anyone shall be offended with me he will thereby acknowledge that he is obnoxious to criticism.

Respectfully submitted,

THOS. C. MILLER,
Inspector-General.

The following resolution, offered by Dr. Vernon F'Anson, was referred to Committee on Good of the Grand Camp:

Resolved, That the business of the Grand Camp be completed within the space of two days, if possible, so that the Grand Camp may adjourn on Wednesday evening at a suitable hour.

Adopted.

The following was offered by Comrade John Lamb:

Whereas, The question of forming a League of Nations for the preservation of peace in the world has agitated the thought of mankind for several years; and

Whereas, this question will be carefully considered by the Peace Conference at Paris; Therefore be it

Resolved, That we, members of the Grand Camp of Virginia, in our annual session at Lynchburg, do hereby heartily endorse this League of Nations; and will give all the encouragement and assistance in our power to the forming of leagues in our respective counties as suggested by the Virginia League recently formed in the city of Richmond.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be sent to Mr. George Bryan, the President of the Virginia League, Richmond, Va.

Adopted.

Report of Committee on Finance

Your Committee on Finance to whom the report of Quartermaster-General W. McK. Evans was referred, beg to report:

1st. That the merging of the deceased Quartermaster-General's account with his own is clear and explicit.

2d. That the balance due to the Grand Camp of Virginia by the deceased Quartermaster-General and the balance due by the present Quartermaster-General are deposited in bank.

3d. The income collected amounting to.....	$541 42
and the disbursements amounting to.....	362 88

leaves a balance of.....	$178 54
--------------------------	----------

in bank to the credit of the Grand Camp.

In addition to the above amount in bank, Quartermaster-General Evans reports there is also in bank to the credit of the Liberty Bond fund,
cash.....	$250 00
one bond.....	250 00

$500 00

4th. Your Committee most earnestly endorse the appeal of our Quartermaster-General Evans for the unpaid dues of the respective delinquent camps, without which the Grand Camp will surely become embarrassed. Your Committee knows this delinquency exists only for want of timely attention of the officers or active members of these camps and not from any indifference on their part. And we beg that on your return to your camp you will awaken among your comrades and these camps their attention, which is the only prerequisite needed for the collection of the little pittance of fifteen cents, dues per capita per annum, and where the camps are unable, let some comrade pay the amount for his camp, as many are now doing, and who will surely receive their reward for helping an indigent brother or camp.

Neither the bank book nor vouchers were at hand, but your Committee, knowing the integrity and responsibility of the present Quartermaster-General, are well satisfied with the correctness of his report.

Respectfully submitted,

J. THOMPSON BROWN, Chairman,
E. L. BELI.

Adopted.

THIRD DAY Thursday, December 12, 1918

The following resolutions and report were offered by Comrades J. Thompson Brown and E. L. Bell:

Whereas, There has been a misunderstanding existing in the Grand Camp concerning the subscriptions by some of its members to the Liberty Bonds, at its last session in Petersburg; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the subject matter be referred to the proper Committee, for its consideration, and that the Committee report its recommendations for the action of the present meeting of the Grand Camp.

Referred to Committee on Finance.

After due and careful consideration of the subject, your Committee is clearly of the opinion that the action of the Grand Camp on the report of its Finance Committee, as set forth in the minutes of its last meeting at Petersburg (page 22 of its published proceedings), authorized its Quartermaster to purchase only a $250.00 bond, and any act beyond this was ultra vires.

Your Committee therefore recommends the passage of the following resolution.

Resolved, That the Quartermaster be, and is, hereby instructed to return to the subscribers all bonds purchased with their subscriptions, or the money paid in therefor, it being the intent and purpose of the Grand Camp so to do.

Adopted.

The following resolution was offered by Comrade Vernon P'Anson:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Grand Camp be tendered to the Garland-Rodes Camp C. V., the Kirkwood, Otey, and the Old Dominion Chapters, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and to the Virginian Hotel for their hospitable entertainment and many courtesies during our stay in the Hill City.

Adopted by a rising vote.

The following resolution was offered by Comrade J. Thompson Brown:

Resolved, That this Grand Camp, in consideration of the long, efficient and faithful services of our Adjutant-General, Col. Jos. V. Bidgood, donate to him a bonus of one hundred dollars as a token of our appreciation.

Adopted.
